KELLY KANYOK

Kelly Kanyok is a textile artist and the founder of Orphaned Wool, a design studio and online shop that has been offering punch needle and rug hooking patterns to fiber artists worldwide since 2017. Drawing inspiration from Art Nouveau and the Arts and Crafts Movement, Kelly's richly detailed designs blend timeless elegance with classic color palettes to create dimensional works of art—from framed pieces to pillows, rugs, and decorative baskets.

In her classes, Kelly teaches both traditional punch needle embroidery and her own innovative technique that combines punch needle with rug hooking. This unique approach adds texture, depth, and creativity to every project. Her work has been featured in Punch Needle & Primitive Stitcher Magazine, ATHA Magazine, and Rug Hooking Magazine, and exhibited at national shows including the Sauder Village Celebrations Show.
